

Los Angeles Education Partnership

Quick Facts Sheet

THESE STUDENTS ARE AMAZING!

“Regardless of the fact that I did well in school, I didn’t know what that implied. I didn’t know that meant I could be a professional, that I could be scholarly. I dreamed about it, of course, but I didn’t believe that could really be me.”

— Julia M., LAEP Alumnus & UC Berkeley graduate

About LAEP

Los Angeles Education Partnership (LAEP) impacts nearly 17,000 students, their families, and 770 educators in high-poverty neighborhoods such as South and East Los Angeles with a large concentration of English language learners and first generation college goers.

Founded in 1984, LAEP is an innovative leader in school reform, bridging its proven and effective programs and resources with teachers, principals, students, parents and communities to transform high-need schools. Drawing on 30 years of experience, LAEP has identified six core elements that it believes schools need to be successful.

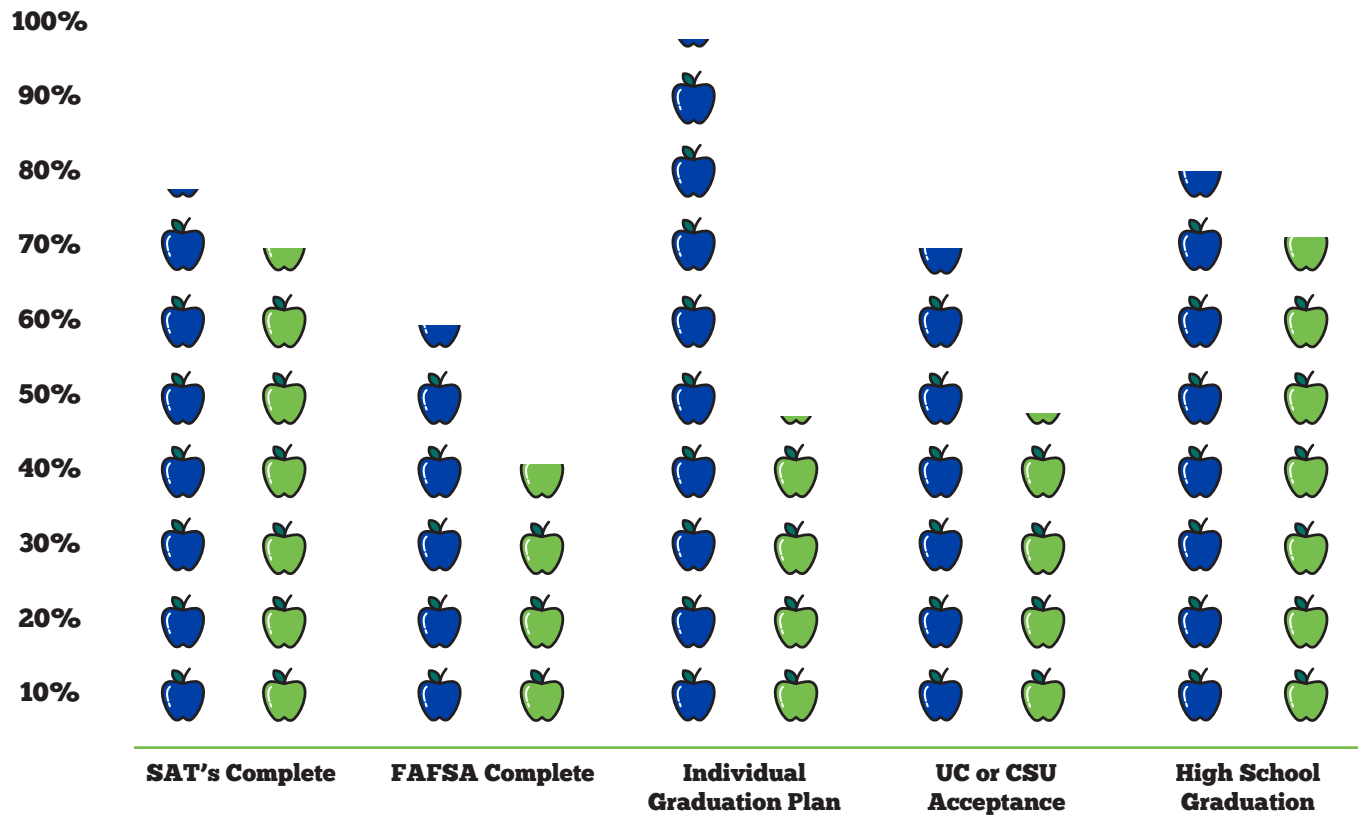

6 Core Elements of LAEP

Quick Facts

- At LAEP Partner Schools, 78% of parents regularly participated in student-led conferences.
- Student peer mediators solved 98% of disputes at Fremont HS in 2014-15.
- 97% of teachers at LAEP partner schools believe that their school is inviting and supportive.

Los Angeles Education Partnership College & Career Readiness

 Los Angeles Education Partnership
 Los Angeles Unified School District

Quick Facts

- LAEP Partner School Social Justice Humanitas Academy's graduation rate was 95% compared to LAUSD's overall rate of 82% in 2014-15.
- More than 1,200 students participated in college and career mock interviews with an industry professional in 2015-2016.
- In LAEP's Early Childhood program, 97% of parents improved how they helped their children with learning in 2015-2016.

For more information, please contact
 Tina Demirdjian, tdemirdjian@laep.org
 Los Angeles Education Partnership
 202 W. 1st Street, Suite 6-0410
 Los Angeles, CA 90012
 213-622-5237, ext. 240
www.laep.org
One Zip Code for Education

LOS ANGELES
EDUCATION
 PARTNERSHIP